Tailoring is the making of people's clothes. It is a job that involves designing, sewing and mending. In Uganda, it is done by both men and women. It is one of the activities that has helped most women to earn a living. My sister Janet who lives in the village of Mulungu is one of those who like this Job. It has helped her a lot.

During her childhood, she practised stitching of clothes with local needles. Just after her primary education, Janet joined St. Benard Vocational Training Center and got skills in tailoring. When she finished her course of two years, our father bought a sewing machine for her. She started mending clothes.

Gradually, she earned and saved her money for a period of three years. She got five million shillings from her savings and bought materials of very good quality. She made suits, party dresses, pairs of trousers and school uniforms.
